

GAMES AND STAKES ON THE EARTH

Project's Summary :

We are three people. Our goal is through partnerships, to connect schools from Paris and the suburb with French Schools abroad and local schools from other continents. We are going to try to understand the specificities of the culture of each country we are going to travel to, in using the Game as a reference, especially the parlour game and the traditional and sport game.

One of our goal is to collect games which are played in different countries. Each partnerschool will be able to try the different games, even after our departure.

Why are we leaving?

We believe that travelling can and will permit us to meet people, share strong relationships, give and receive and thus understand better others and ourselves.

One of the most important goal of learning is to give the possibility to access knowledge to people, by people and for people. We want to share the life of people who have made other experiments and thus, exchange, discover, live in places which are very different from our civilization in order to learn from other cultures. We believe in new values of Education such as CEMEA.

Goals

- To help children between 7 and 10 years old to discover parlour games and traditional and sport games.
- To help children from French schools living abroad and foreign children from local schools to discover the different games which are played in France.
- To connect children and teachers from the different patnerschools through a same base: the same games.
- To train organizers and teachers around the practice of games.

Means

- To create a website where partnerschools can find useful information about parlour games, traditional and sport games all around the world.
- To send parlour games from France to the different partnerschools abroad.
- To go to partnerschools abroad in order to explain how to play with the different games. To give and receive information in order to compare the role of the game in the different cultures. To receive local games.
- To help children from partnerschools all over the world to write each others thanks to the forum in the website, and to exchange drawings.
- To take photos and make films about the different experiences abroad. To register families, children, teachers...speaking about their life, their feelings, their way of life.
